

LAW FIRM WELCOMES NEW ATTORNEY

Serfontein & Richards attorneys and conveyancers welcome a new face to the practice.

Attorney Diana Serfontein joined the team on 1 November, bringing with her a wealth of knowledge on family and criminal law.

Diana specialises in divorces, and her addition to the team has enabled the law firm to start a litigation division.

'Serfontein & Richards have always been specialists in the field of conveyancing, wills, deceased estates, antenuptial contracts and commercial and property law.

'Previously, we had to refer clients to other litigation specialists, but with Diana on board, Serfontein & Richards is now a full-fledged general law firm,' says Director Antha Serfontein.

She holds a degree in LLB and has 11 years' practical experience at her father's Witbank-based law firm.

She and her two children, aged 7 and 9, relocated to Richards Bay in August. Despite being a new face in the community she says she has been welcomed with open arms. Serfontein & Richards are a ladies-only law firm with three branches across South Africa: Richards Bay, Ballito and Somerset-Wes in the Western Cape.

Founded in 1995, Serfontein & Richards's credo has remained the same for the past 24 years: to establish long term client relationships built on trust.

Four well-versed attorneys look after their various clients' needs:

- Antha Serfontein (Director; Somerset-West and Richards Bay: conveyancing, estates, property and commercial law)
- Elmarie Richards (Director; Ballito: estates, wills, conveyancing, property law)
- Eunice Malan (Richards Bay: conveyancing, town planning and servitudes)
- Diana Serfontein (Richards Bay: family law, criminal law and debt review)
